

Contact: Daphné BURGE
Ennov
Telephone: +33 140 38 81 40
Fax: +33 140 38 81 29

251 rue du Faubourg Saint Martin
75010 Paris
www.ennov.com

PRESS RELEASE

Ennov announces the acquisition of AtEvent, the publisher of the Atrium™ suite of software, a solution for managing professional events and scientific congresses.

This acquisition strengthens Ennov's leading position in regulated content management for Life Sciences.

Paris, 1 December 2017: AtEvent joins the Ennov group. AtEvent is the publisher of a global solution for managing professional events that ensures regulatory compliance in managing the transparency of interests between professionals and health industries (Human/Animal Health/Cosmetics and Medical Devices) through integration of the entire value chain including contractualisation, thanks to its contract module.

Full management of interactions with the professional or the health organisation enables all of the elements required by the supervisory authorities (NOO/DMOS, EFPIA, Sunshine Act, Bertrand Law) to be managed digitally.

Through this acquisition, which is part of a clear and coherent commercial strategy, AtEvent becomes the Events division of Ennov. It provides a relevant response to major developments in the pharmaceutical industry and the regulatory environment. AtEvent's Atrium solution is recognised on the market as the richest and most competitive for managing professional events and scientific congresses. It complements the solutions that Ennov already proposes for quality management, regulatory affairs, pharmacovigilance and clinical trials. The product fit is accompanied by complementary customer relationships. AtEvent works with large accounts that are now added to Ennov's 200 Life Sciences customers.

“We have already identified many synergies that will enrich our modules and create significant opportunities for our customers. The AtEvent team has excellent multidisciplinary skills, and we share the same values: innovation of our products, competence and pragmatism of our approach, customer satisfaction, employee well-being and enthusiasm”, said Olivier Pâris, the Chairman of Ennov.

“We are proud of the path we have been taking since the company was founded in 2009 and I would like to personally thank my employees and customers, who have trusted us, and who have accompanied the growth of Atrium for eight years. Our entry into the Ennov group will be in perfect continuity and will provide new development opportunities. Olivier Pâris and his teams will help us to continue our growth while preserving our specificities. I am very pleased with this new adventure”, adds Sophie Bardet, the CEO of AtEvent.

With this acquisition, Ennov is expected to come close to a consolidated turnover of €15 million in 2018,

About Ennov

Ennov designs, develops and distributes EDM and workflow software for the life sciences industry. The Ennov solution encompasses 4 main areas: clinical trials, regulatory affairs, pharmacovigilance and quality. Its customers include Air Liquide, Baxter, Ceva, MSD, Novartis and Virbac. Ennov is ISO 9001:2015 certified. For further details see www.ennov.com.

About AtEvent

Created in June 2009, AtEvent is the fruit of operational reflection and observation, enriched by a long business expertise in the management of events in the pharmaceutical industry. AtEvent offers healthcare industries a collaborative platform for managing events and a business response, adapted to regulatory constraints (DMOS and Transparency). For further details see www.atevent.eu.